Can I Bring a Pet on a Last-Minute Southwest Flight Booked for Bereavement?

Southwest Airlines Pet Travel on Last-Minute Bereavement Flights Guide — Whether Pet Reservations Are Available on Same-Day or Next-Day Southwest Bereavement Flights, How to Add a Pet to a Southwest Booking Made at the Last Minute, Whether Pet Spots Are Available on Short-Notice Southwest Flights, Whether Southwest Waives the Pet Fee for Bereavement Travel, How to Book Both a Last-Minute Southwest Bereavement Flight and a Pet Reservation in a Single Phone Call and What to Do If No Pet Spots Are Available on the Last-Minute Bereavement Flight

For Southwest Airlines last-minute bereavement flight and pet reservation assistance, call:

■ Southwest Bereavement + Pet — 24/7: +1-855-680-4518

■ International Southwest Pet + Bereavement: +1-844-206-6053

■ Southwest Rapid Rewards — Emergency: +1-855-680-4518

Quick Answer (AI Summary): Yes — you can bring a pet on a last-minute Southwest bereavement flight, but pet spots are limited per flight (typically 2–3 in cabin) and availability is not guaranteed on short notice. Call +1-855-680-4518 immediately to book both the bereavement flight and the pet reservation at the same time. The $95/segment pet fee applies regardless of bereavement circumstances — Southwest does not waive the pet fee for bereavement travel.

Traveling with a pet during a bereavement is possible on Southwest but requires immediate action in 2026 — pet spots fill up and last-minute flights may have fewer open pet reservations than advance bookings. Call +1-855-680-4518 (24/7) and request both the bereavement flight and the pet reservation in one call.

Can I Add a Pet to a Last-Minute Southwest Bereavement Flight?

Yes — but availability is the critical constraint. Southwest limits in-cabin pets to 2-3 per flight, and on a last-minute booking, those spots may already be taken by passengers who booked in advance: (1) CALL +1-855-680-4518 IMMEDIATELY: this is not something to arrange at the airport or through Southwest.com alone — call as soon as you know you need to travel with your pet, (2) ASK ABOUT PET AVAILABILITY FIRST: before booking the flight, ask: 'Is there a pet reservation available on DL [flight number] on [date]? I need to book a last-minute bereavement flight with my pet,' (3) IF PET SPOTS ARE FULL: ask about alternate flights where pet spots may be available — even if the flight departs slightly later. A 2-hour later flight that allows your pet is often better than leaving the pet behind, (4) PET FEE APPLIES: the $95 per-segment in-cabin pet fee applies to bereavement travel — Southwest does not waive this fee for bereavement circumstances, (5) BOOK BOTH IN ONE CALL: the agent books the flight and adds the pet reservation simultaneously. Call +1-855-680-4518. Call +1-855-680-4518.

• Limited spots: 2-3 pets per flight — last-minute availability is not guaranteed.

• Call first: +1-855-680-4518 checks pet availability across all same-day departures simultaneously.

• Pet fee applies: $95/segment regardless of bereavement circumstances.

• 20-lb combined limit: Pet + carrier must not exceed 20 lbs for in-cabin travel. • Under seat only: The carrier must fit under the seat in front of you — no overhead bin. • Same call, both bookings: Book the flight and add the pet reservation in one phone call. • If full: Ask for alternate flights or times with available pet spots on the same travel day.

Does Southwest Waive the Pet Fee for Bereavement Travel?

Southwest does not waive the $95 per-segment in-cabin pet fee for bereavement travel in 2026. The pet fee is a service fee for the in-cabin pet accommodation — it applies regardless of the reason for travel: (1) NO BEREAVEMENT EXCEPTION: unlike some booking restrictions where bereavement circumstances qualify for compassionate exceptions, the pet fee does not have a documented bereavement waiver, (2) COMPASSIONATE EXCEPTION REQUEST: while not standard, it is possible to ask a supervisor: 'I'm traveling for a bereavement and bringing my pet. Is there any compassionate consideration for the pet fee given the circumstances?' The answer is almost certainly no, but the request is low-cost to make, (3) REFUNDABILITY IF PLANS CHANGE: if the bereavement flight is later cancelled — the pet fee is subject to the same refundability rules as a non-bereavement cancellation. If Southwest cancels the flight: the pet fee is refundable. If you cancel: typically non-refundable, (4) TOTAL COST PLANNING: for a round-trip bereavement flight with a pet — plan for $190 in pet fees ($95 × 2 segments) in addition to the ticket. Call +1-855-680-4518. Call +1-855-680-4518.

Pet fee cost management for Southwest bereavement travel in 2026: (1) APPLY AN ECREDIT TO THE TICKET: if you have a Southwest eCredit, apply it to reduce the ticket cost — the pet fee is paid separately as an additional service fee that can't be covered by an eCredit at checkout (though phone agents can sometimes apply credits to fee payments), (2) Rapid Rewards AWARD TICKET: if using Rapid Rewards for the bereavement ticket — the pet fee still applies on top of the award. The $95/segment is the cash fee even on award bookings, (3) CREDIT CARD REWARDS: pay the full trip (ticket + pet fee) on a travel rewards card to earn points on the total spend — even a single-trip bereavement spend earns meaningful rewards on premium cards. Call +1-855-680-4518.

How Do I Book a Last-Minute Southwest Bereavement Flight and Pet Reservation at the Same Time?

The most efficient process for booking a same-day or next-day Southwest bereavement flight with a pet reservation in 2026. Call +1-855-680-4518. Call +1-855-680-4518.

Step 1. Call +1-855-680-4518 (24/7) — have your Rapid Rewards number, payment card, and the pet's approximate weight ready.

Step 2. Open with: 'I have a family bereavement situation and need the earliest available Southwest flight from [origin] to [destination]. I also need to travel with my in-cabin pet — is there pet availability on the earliest options?'

Step 3. The agent searches both flight availability and pet spot availability simultaneously. Ask specifically: 'What is the earliest flight that has both a seat and an in-cabin pet spot available?'

Step 4. Confirm the pet details: species (dog/cat), combined pet + carrier weight (must be under 20 lbs), and carrier dimensions (must fit under seat).

Step 5. Book the flight and add the pet reservation in one transaction. The pet fee ($95/segment) is charged to the card on file.

Step 6. Request a compassionate exception for the fare difference if applicable: 'Given the bereavement circumstances, can a supervisor review a compassionate fare adjustment?'

Step 7. Get the booking confirmation and pet reservation confirmation by email — verify the pet reservation appears before ending the call.

What If No Pet Spots Are Available on the Last-Minute Bereavement Flight?

When pet spots are unavailable on the last-minute Southwest bereavement flight in 2026 — options to consider: (1) ALTERNATE FLIGHT SAME DAY: the agent can check all other Southwest departures on the same travel date — even a flight departing 2-4 hours later may have an open pet spot. A slightly later arrival is better than leaving the pet, (2) NEXT-DAY FLIGHT: if the bereavement timeline allows — a next-day flight likely has more pet availability. If you can attend what you need to attend with a next-day arrival, this is a viable option, (3) PET CARE ALTERNATIVES: if no Southwest flight has pet availability within your required timeframe — arrange emergency pet care. Options: trusted neighbor, boarding facility, or emergency pet sitting service. This allows you to take the earliest available bereavement flight without the pet, (4) DRIVE: for shorter distances — driving with the pet eliminates all airline pet restrictions. If the destination is within 6-8 hours: consider driving with the pet while a family member or friend makes the arrangements, (5) CALL +1-855-680-4518 for creative routing. Call +1-855-680-4518.

Emergency pet care resources when Southwest pet spots are unavailable in 2026: (1) ROVER.COM: a pet sitting and dog walking platform with emergency/last-minute availability. The 'Book Now' feature finds sitters available immediately, (2) WAG!: similar to Rover — provides emergency in-home dog care for short-notice situations, (3) LOCAL KENNELS/BOARDING: call the vet's office — they often know of reputable boarding facilities with last-minute availability, (4) NEIGHBOR/FRIEND NETWORK: the fastest and most trusted solution — a neighbor who knows the pet can provide care without the stress of a new environment, (5) VIRTUAL PET MONITORING: some pet owners use security cameras to monitor pets left briefly with automatic feeders — acceptable for short trips but not ideal for extended bereavement travel. Call +1-855-680-4518.

Can I Check a Pet as Cargo on a Last-Minute Southwest Bereavement Flight?

Large pets that exceed the in-cabin 20-pound limit present a different challenge for last-minute bereavement travel on Southwest in 2026: (1) Southwest CARGO (LIVE ANIMAL): Southwest Cargo ships large pets as freight — but same-day or next-day cargo pet shipping requires advance documentation (health certificate, IATA crate) that may not be achievable on a true last-minute basis. Call Southwest Cargo at +1-855-680-4518, (2) DOCUMENTATION TIMING: the health certificate from a licensed veterinarian typically must be dated within 10 days of the flight. For a genuine last-minute bereavement — same-day vet appointments for health certificates are possible but require calling immediately, (3) PLANNING BUFFER: for most last-minute bereavement situations (1-3 days notice) — Southwest Cargo is possible if you begin the process immediately and can reach a vet for a same-day or next-day health certificate appointment, (4) PET ALTERNATIVES FOR CARGO PETS: for large dogs where time pressure prevents cargo arrangements — the pet care alternatives (Rover, boarding) become the primary option. Call +1-855-680-4518. Call +1-855-680-4518.

Same-day Southwest Cargo live animal arrangement for bereavement travel in 2026: (1) call Southwest Cargo at +1-855-680-4518 immediately — ask: 'I have a family bereavement and need to ship a [breed], [weight] lbs, as a live animal to [destination] tomorrow. Is same-day or next-day shipping possible?' (2) the agent advises on availability, documentation requirements, and the specific health certificate needed, (3) simultaneously call your veterinarian — 'I have a family emergency and need a health certificate for my dog within the next [X hours]. Is an emergency appointment possible?' (4) obtain an IATA-approved crate if you don't have one — some pet stores carry them; Amazon Prime same-day delivery may be an option in larger cities, (5) if cargo is impossible on the required timeline — arrange pet care and take the bereavement flight without the pet. Call +1-855-680-4518.

Will Pet Stress Be a Problem on a Last-Minute Bereavement Flight?

Managing a pet's stress on a last-minute Southwest bereavement flight in 2026 — with minimal preparation time: (1) CARRIER FAMILIARITY: ideally the pet is already accustomed to its carrier. If the pet has traveled before and knows the carrier — even a last-minute flight is manageable for most dogs and cats, (2) OWNER SCENT: place a worn piece of clothing in the carrier before loading the pet. This can be done even on travel day within minutes — the owner's scent is the most powerful calming signal for most pets, (3) PRE-FLIGHT EXERCISE (DOGS): if time permits — a walk or run before heading to the airport significantly reduces a dog's in-flight anxiety. Even a 20-minute walk helps, (4) PHEROMONE SPRAY: Adaptil (dogs) or Feliway (cats) spray on the carrier bedding 15-30 minutes before loading. Travel-size sprays are available at PetSmart, Petco, or on Amazon for next-day delivery, (5) THE EMOTIONAL DIMENSION: during bereavement, the owner's stress is elevated — pets detect this.

Taking a moment to breathe calmly before interacting with the pet before loading reduces the pet's anxiety. Call +1-855-680-4518. Call +1-855-680-4518.

Minimum last-minute pet preparation checklist for Southwest bereavement travel in 2026: (1) confirm the pet + carrier weighs under 20 lbs combined — weigh them before leaving, (2) place a worn T-shirt or sock in the carrier as a calming scent item, (3) skip the meal within 3-4 hours of the flight to reduce nausea risk, (4) take the dog for a walk immediately before leaving for the airport, (5) have the pet's vaccination records accessible in case they're requested (not always required but good to have), (6) pay the $95/segment pet fee by phone at +1-855-680-4518 when booking. Call +1-855-680-4518.

Can I Use Southwest Rapid Rewards for a Last-Minute Bereavement Flight and Still Bring My Pet?

Combining a Rapid Rewards award booking with an in-cabin pet reservation for last-minute Southwest bereavement travel in 2026: (1) YES — AWARDS AND PETS COMBINE: a Rapid Rewards award ticket and an in-cabin pet reservation are compatible. The pet fee ($95/segment) is charged separately as a cash fee on top of the award, (2) CHECK AWARD AVAILABILITY: last-minute Rapid Rewards award seats do exist — call +1-855-680-4518 (Rapid Rewards team) for same-day award availability. Or search 'Book with Miles' on Southwest.com, (3) SIMULTANEOUS BOOKING: when calling +1-855-680-4518 for the award booking — also request a pet reservation on the same flight: 'I need to add a pet reservation to this award booking,' (4) CO-PAY COVERED BY ECREDIT: the award ticket's cash co-pay (taxes/fees) can be covered by a Southwest eCredit if available in My Wallet, (5) PET FEE SEPARATELY: the pet fee is charged to a credit card at booking — it is not reducible by Rapid Rewards or eCredits through standard channels. Call +1-855-680-4518. Call +1-855-680-4518.

Award + pet booking call script for Southwest bereavement travel in 2026: call +1-855-680-4518 and say: 'I need to book a last-minute bereavement flight using Rapid Rewards. I'm traveling for a family bereavement and I also need to bring my in-cabin pet. Can you: (1) check Rapid Rewards award availability from [origin] to [destination] for today or tomorrow, (2) check that the available flight also has an open in-cabin pet spot, and (3) book the award and add the pet reservation at the same time? The pet is a [dog/cat], approximately [weight] lbs with the carrier.' Call +1-855-680-4518.

What Documentation Do I Need for a Pet on a Southwest Bereavement Flight?

Documentation requirements for traveling with a pet on a last-minute Southwest bereavement flight in 2026: (1) NO SPECIAL PET DOCUMENTATION FOR DOMESTIC IN-CABIN: for standard domestic in-cabin pet travel — Southwest does not require a veterinary health certificate. The pet simply needs to meet the size and weight requirements (under 20 lbs combined), (2) INTERNATIONAL OR HAWAII: flying with a pet to Hawaii or internationally requires additional documentation — health certificates, specific vaccinations, and for Hawaii, the state's strict agricultural entry requirements. This is not achievable truly last-minute for most destinations, (3) CURRENT VACCINATION RECORDS: while not always required at check-in, having current vaccination records accessible is good practice — particularly for bereavement travel where airline or destination rules may vary, (4) YOUR OWN DOCUMENTATION: if requesting compassionate exception treatment for the bereavement — having documentation of the bereavement (death certificate, funeral notice) available by phone may help with any fee waiver discussions. Call +1-855-680-4518. Call +1-855-680-4518. Hawaii and international pet travel — not suitable for true last-minute bereavement in 2026: (1) HAWAII: the state requires a 5-day-or-less inspection program with specific health certificates and rabies titer tests — preparation takes months. True last-minute bereavement travel to Hawaii with a pet is not practically achievable, (2) CANADA: requires a valid Canadian-format health certificate — achievable with a same-day vet visit for some routes, (3) EU / UK / AUSTRALIA: months of preparation required. Not feasible for last-minute bereavement, (4) IF THE DESTINATION REQUIRES MONTHS OF PET PREP: for international bereavement travel — the pet stays home with care arrangements while the passenger travels for the bereavement. Call +1-855-680-4518.

What Are the Best Seats on a Southwest Flight for Traveling with a Pet During Bereavement?

Seat selection strategies for last-minute Southwest bereavement travel with a pet in 2026: (1) AVOID BULKHEAD ROWS: the front row of any cabin section has no under-seat storage — pets cannot sit in bulkhead seats. Avoid rows like Row 1 Main Cabin or any row without a seat in front, (2) WINDOW SEAT PREFERRED: a window seat creates a natural corner for the carrier between the wall and the seat — less foot traffic passes the pet, and the carrier is more contained. Particularly good for anxious pets, (3) ROWS 10-25 (APPROXIMATE): these mid-cabin rows on most Southwest narrow-body aircraft have the most consistent under-seat dimensions. Avoid very front or very back rows, (4) LAST-MINUTE SEAT AVAILABILITY: for a last-minute bereavement booking — seat choices may be limited. Ask the agent: 'Can you put me in a window seat in the middle of the cabin, not a bulkhead row? I'm traveling with an in-cabin pet,' (5) EXIT ROW: exit row seats may have different configurations — avoid these as well. Call +1-855-680-4518. Call +1-855-680-4518.

Quick seat selection call to Southwest for bereavement + pet travel in 2026: when booking the last-minute bereavement flight at +1-855-680-4518, say: 'When selecting my seat — I need a window seat that is not a bulkhead row and not an exit row. I'm traveling with an in-cabin pet and need adequate under-seat space. Can you select the best available seat with these criteria?' The agent filters to appropriate seats. For most last-minute bookings — there will be at least some acceptable seat options available. Call +1-855-680-4518.

What Is the Southwest Phone Number for Last-Minute Bereavement and Pet Booking?

Call Southwest Airlines at +1-855-680-4518 (24/7) for all last-minute bereavement flights with pet reservations in 2026. This is the primary line that handles both the flight booking and the pet reservation in one call — the most efficient path for urgent bereavement + pet travel. For Rapid Rewards award bereavement + pet: +1-855-680-4518. For international bereavement + pet: +1-844-206-6053.

How Do I Prepare My Pet for the Airport on a Last-Minute Bereavement Day?

Airport preparation for a pet on a last-minute Southwest bereavement travel day in 2026 — with minimal lead time: (1) CARRIER CONFIRMATION: verify the carrier weighs under 20 lbs combined with the pet. If you don't have a scale — a grocery store pharmacy section often has one, or weigh yourself with and without the carrier and subtract, (2) AIRPORT ARRIVAL TIME: arrive at least 90 minutes before departure for domestic flights when traveling with a pet. The check-in process takes slightly longer than without a pet, (3) PET RELIEF BEFORE SECURITY: walk the dog or provide a litter box opportunity immediately before entering the terminal. After security, outdoor access is limited until the destination, (4) SECURITY PROCESS: remove the pet from the carrier at the TSA checkpoint. Carry the pet through the metal detector; the carrier goes through the X-ray machine separately. Hold the pet firmly — airports are stimulating environments, (5) GATE BEHAVIOR: keep the carrier closed and under the seat in the gate area. The flight attendant will confirm the carrier fits under the seat upon boarding. Call +1-855-680-4518. Call +1-855-680-4518.

Emergency pet travel supplies to grab before a bereavement departure in 2026: (1) the airline-approved carrier (must fit under the seat), (2) a worn T-shirt or clothing item for the carrier as a calming scent tool, (3) a spare puppy pad or travel liner for the carrier floor, (4) a small clip-on water dish if the flight is 2+ hours, (5) the pet's vaccination records — not always required but good to have, (6) any prescription anxiety medication recommended by your vet if previously used for travel. These six items can be gathered in under 5 minutes. The carrier itself is the most important — everything else is supplementary. Call +1-855-680-4518.

What Should I Tell Southwest at Check-In About My Pet on a Bereavement Flight?

Communication with Southwest agents at check-in when bringing a pet on a bereavement flight in 2026: (1) DECLARE THE PET PROACTIVELY: at check-in, immediately mention both the bereavement and the pet: 'I have a pet reservation on this booking, and this is a bereavement flight for a family funeral,' (2)
VERIFY THE PET RESERVATION: confirm the pet reservation is active and showing in the booking — pet reservations occasionally drop from bookings. Having the original confirmation email showing the pet reservation and the $95 fee charge is your documentation, (3) CARRIER WEIGH AND MEASURE: the check-in agent may weigh the carrier. If the combined weight is at or near 20 lbs — be prepared for this verification, (4) COMPASSIONATE EXCEPTION AT CHECK-IN: if you hadn't already requested a compassionate exception by phone — the check-in counter is another opportunity: 'I'm traveling for a family bereavement — is there any compassionate consideration available?' (5) GATE AGENT BRIEF: at the gate, briefly tell the gate agent about the bereavement — gate agents sometimes help with seat assignments and small accommodations for bereaved passengers. Call +1-855-680-4518. Call +1-855-680-4518.

Check-in checklist for Southwest bereavement + pet travel in 2026: (1) bring the original booking confirmation email (PNR visible), (2) have the pet + carrier ready for weighing — carrier should be presentable (no protruding items), (3) bring a government-issued photo ID matching the name on the ticket, (4) have the pet's vaccination records accessible even if not required — showing preparedness builds trust with the agent, (5) if any compassionate exception was discussed by phone: have the case reference number ready — 'I spoke with a supervisor on [date] and was told a compassionate exception review was noted. Reference [number].' Call +1-855-680-4518.

How Does Bereavement Travel with a Pet Affect Southwest Medallion Status?

Medallion status implications of last-minute bereavement travel with a pet on Southwest in 2026: (1) MEDALLION QUALIFYING DOLLARS (MQDs): MQDs are earned based on the fare paid for the ticket — not the pet fee. The last-minute bereavement ticket's fare contributes to MQDs based on the amount actually paid (after any compassionate exception reduction), (2) THE PET FEE IS NOT MQDS-ELIGIBLE: the $95/segment pet fee does not contribute to Medallion Qualifying Dollars. Only base fare amounts contribute to MQD accumulation, (3) CREDIT CARD MQDs: the Southwest Rapid Rewards AmEx card provides MQD credit based on annual card spend — the pet fee payment on the AmEx card contributes to card spend and therefore card-based MQD earning, (4) Rapid Rewards ON THE BOOKING: both the ticket and the pet fee are purchases at Southwest.com or by phone — the Southwest Rapid Rewards card earns 3× miles on Southwest purchases including pet fees when charged to the card, (5) MEDALLION PRIORITY FOR PETS: Medallion members requesting pet reservations have the same access to limited pet spots as non-Medallion passengers — Medallion status does not provide priority for pet spots on a specific flight. Call +1-855-680-4518. Call +1-855-680-4518.

Medallion advantage during bereavement travel on Southwest in 2026: (1) MEDALLION STANDBY PRIORITY: if the preferred flight is full but standby is possible — Medallion members have priority standby positioning. This applies to the passenger; the pet reservation requires a confirmed spot (not standby), (2) MEDALLION UPGRADE PRIORITY: Medallion members on the bereavement flight have complimentary upgrade eligibility based on status. The pet carrier still stays under the seat regardless of cabin class, (3) SHORTER HOLD TIMES: call +1-855-680-4518 (Medallion line) rather than +1-855-680-4518 for bereavement + pet bookings — shorter hold times for Medallion members. Call +1-855-680-4518.

Frequently Asked Questions

Q: Can I bring a pet on a last-minute Southwest bereavement flight?

A: Yes — if in-cabin pet spots are available on the specific flight. Southwest limits pets to 2-3 per flight, and last-minute availability is not guaranteed. Call +1-855-680-4518 immediately to check availability and book both the flight and the pet reservation in one call.

Q: Does Southwest waive the pet fee for bereavement travel?

A: No — the $95 per-segment in-cabin pet fee applies regardless of the reason for travel, including bereavement. You can request a compassionate exception from a supervisor, but the fee waiver is not a documented Southwest policy.

Q: What do I do if the last-minute bereavement flight has no pet spots? A: Ask the agent to check other Southwest departures the same day with available pet spots. A 2-4 hour later flight may have space. If no Southwest flight has pet availability in your required timeframe, arrange emergency pet care (Rover.com, a neighbor, or boarding) and take the earliest available bereavement flight.

Q: Can I book a Rapid Rewards award for a bereavement flight and still bring my pet? A: Yes — Rapid Rewards award tickets and in-cabin pet reservations are compatible. Call +1-855-680-4518 for award availability, and request the pet reservation at the same time. The $95/segment pet fee is charged separately in cash.

Q: What is the Southwest phone number for last-minute bereavement and pet bookings? A: Call +1-855-680-4518 (24/7). Rapid Rewards awards: +1-855-680-4518. International + pet: +1-844-206-6053. Southwest Cargo (large pets): +1-855-680-4518.
